

The background of the advertisement is a high-angle photograph of a Swiss city, likely Zurich. The scene captures the old town with its dense collection of buildings, many featuring traditional European architecture with gabled roofs. Several prominent church spires and towers are visible, including one with a green roof. The city is situated along a river, with a bridge crossing it in the middle ground. In the background, the calm waters of a lake are visible, with distant mountains under a clear sky. A blue banner with white text is overlaid on the lower portion of the image.

Expert advice – tailored support

We operate high-security warehouses featuring state-of-the-art technology and the most rigorous security standards for maximum protection of your assets. We respond flexibly to your needs with individually tailored solutions, and thanks to flexible contract terms, you remain independent at all times. Benefit from our many years of expertise in precious metal storage and a robust international network.

Our experts provide you with personalized, expert advice on the secure storage of your gold, silver, platinum, or palladium and are ready to help you find the right solution.

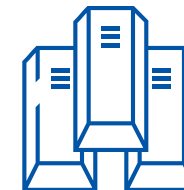

In-house security systems

Our high-security warehouses meet the highest standards worldwide – including 24/7 video surveillance; armed, regularly trained security staff; and an infrastructure that adheres to the requirements of the London Bullion Market Association (LBMA, www.lbma.org.uk). Regular security audits ensure that these standards are met at all times. Brink's offers segregated vaulting: Your precious metals are clearly marked and stored completely separately from other stock. Your valuables are therefore always physically separated and clearly allocated to your ownership.

Personalized support

At Brink's, you have a dedicated personal contact person, supported by a reliable team. Our experienced team consists of longtime employees who serve you on a long-term basis, address your specific concerns, and accompany you as an expert sparring partner in all questions related to precious metal storage. You can count on true partnership and in-depth expertise.

Inventory management

Securely and flexibly store your coins or bars of gold, silver, platinum, or palladium in our high-security vaults in Zurich, Geneva, and Chiasso. With flexible terms and contracts that can be terminated at any time, we offer you maximum freedom. At Brink's, you can regularly check your stock through audits or inventories – including with an auditor authorized by you if you wish. Brink's provides full transparency and tracking through online tools and allows you to access current inventory information via a secure online platform. With everything at a glance, you can keep track of your inventory, transactions, and invoices at all times.

Our services

Customs Clearance: Brink's manages all customs formalities for the transport and storage of your precious metals on your behalf, ensuring a swift and seamless process backed by our many years of experience.

Bonded Warehouses: In Zurich, we operate an open customs warehouse (OCW) that offers you the opportunity to store gold, silver, platinum, and palladium duty-free and VAT-free. The OCW is privately managed by Brink's, ensuring the highest security standards and meticulous inventory management. We also have a bonded warehouse in Geneva, where continuous customs supervision is carried out by on-site customs staff.

Transportation: We organize the safe and discreet transportation of your precious metals – whether they are at your bank or somewhere else. Your assets are professionally and efficiently transferred into the high-security vault of your choice at Brink's with full liability coverage.

Personalized Support: Serving as dedicated contacts and sparring partners, our experienced advisors are always at your disposal, ready to develop personalized solutions to meet your needs.

Brink's liability

As an industry leader for security, at Brink's we assume full responsibility for the precious metals you store with us. If loss, damage, or destruction of your valuables occurs despite our unparalleled security measures, we assume liability for your stored assets up to the contractually agreed amount. Your assets are always fully insured at the current replacement value. At Brink's, our service does not end with insurance. In the event of a claim, we respond quickly, flexibly, and reliably. You are reimbursed with the replacement value within a few days – a promise that sets us apart. Fast, straightforward claims handling is part of our commitment as your trusted partner – so you can count on us at all times with peace of mind and maximum protection.

Because every customer is unique, we offer personalized support

Our clients include private individuals and institutional investors. Brink's meets the highest standards with regard to compliance, discretion, and data protection – always in accordance with Swiss and international regulatory standards. For each customer group, we offer tailored solutions of secure storage and management of precious metals. Whether you need custom security concepts, flexible storage options, or comprehensive advice, we are at your service and will develop an offer that is perfectly tailored to your needs.

Customer reference: maximum transparency and flexibility

The customer needed a storage system for their precious metal stock that would offer maximum transparency, flexibility, and the ability to accommodate their personal preferences without unnecessary complications. It was particularly important to them to have a real-time overview of their inventory, as well as the possibility to respond quickly to changes. The fulfillment of specific storage requirements also had to be simple and straightforward.

Brink's solution

Brink's offered a targeted response to these requirements: With online access, the customer can get an overview of their inventory and retrieve information at any time. The processes are designed to ensure maximum transparency and quick and easy implementation of special requests. This customer-focused approach creates the desired trust and allows the customer to have absolute confidence in the security and management of their assets.

Brink's has very transparent processes, which is important to me. I can view my inventory online at any time. Special requests regarding storage were also accommodated with ease. That creates trust.
